

Irfan Reichmann is the Founder of Aivory AI. He focuses on helping organisations identify the right AI system to build before implementation begins, ensuring that technology decisions are grounded in strategy, relevance, and commercial value. His work is centred on creating AI solutions that are practical, purposeful, and aligned with the needs of modern businesses.

His career spans Singapore, London, Dubai, and Jakarta, giving him a broad international perspective across creative, digital, and strategic disciplines. He has held senior roles including Creative Director at Leo Burnett in Jakarta, Digital Creative Director at dentsu international, Creative Manager at Bank MNC Internasional, and Junior Art Director and Junior Copywriter at Landor in London. He also served as Creative and Digital Department Lead at Nuitee in Dubai, reflecting a career built across diverse markets and business environments.

Through these experiences, Irfan has developed a strong understanding of how ideas, brand, and technology intersect to drive meaningful outcomes. He brings a considered, cross-market perspective to AI and business transformation, with a clear emphasis on building systems that are not only innovative, but also strategically sound and commercially relevant.

As a founder and strategic leader in the AI space, Irfan is committed to bridging the gap between emerging technology and real business needs. He believes that successful AI adoption begins with clear thinking, the right framework, and a deep understanding of what the business is trying to achieve. His work reflects a long-term vision for intelligent, efficient, and scalable use of AI across industries.

Personal Branding

Irfan Reichmann is an AI entrepreneur and strategic builder with an international background spanning Singapore, London, Dubai, and Jakarta. His career has been shaped by experience across creative, digital, and brand leadership roles, giving him a distinctive perspective on how businesses can use technology more intelligently and effectively.

He is recognised for his focus on practical innovation, with an interest in how AI can support growth, sharpen decision-making, and strengthen brand positioning. Rather than pursuing technology for novelty alone, he takes a measured approach that begins with understanding the business problem and ends with solutions that create real value.

With leadership experience across multiple markets and industries, Irfan brings a global mindset and a hands-on way of working. His personal brand reflects clarity, adaptability, and strategic execution. He is driven by the belief that the best AI solutions are those that are aligned with business goals, grounded in context, and built to last.